IT'S THE BRAIN, STUPID! OR IS IT THE STUPID BRAIN?

FOREWORD:

Why am I investing hundreds of hours of research, paying editors thousands of dollars to clean my Spanglish, printing, mailing, typing with only two fingers, and maintaining my website thenewplantation.org at my glorious 81 years of age for? Because I am altruistic, bored, generous?

Hell no! It's an investment! I'm a business man! Just think: legally there are about 300+ million of us here in this Great Country. Of those there are about 20% (or ~60 million) that are residents of the NEW PLANTATION. NOTE: before 2018 there were over 100 million (or 1/3). The other 1/3 are legal dependents of the TAX paying citizens. Each resident of the New Plantation gets about $40,000 in cash and benefits, plus free healthcare (free to them, not to us taxpayers), drugs (all kinds), cell phones, and food stamps (debit cards which are used for food, drugs, sex, and anything else that accepts the debit card). These benefits equal an estimated $1.6 trillion dollars from the government who gets it from ALL TAXPAYERS, including you (if you pay taxes) and me (I DO). It's pure arithmetic (not even mathematics):

“NUMBERS DON'T LIE (THEY ARE NOT POLITICIANS): $1.6 trillion ($1,600,000,000,000 of our taxes) divided by 60 million new plantation residents is equal to around $26,000 each. Agree?... Conclusion: If I invest $10,000 in helping ONE resident of the New Plantation escape and become a taxpayer, my ROI (return on investment) would be an astonishing $160,000 ($1.6 T divided by 100 million taxpayers)! If that were to happen, then I could retire finally! Do you get my point?... It's too bad that politicians don't understand that “10% of something is better than 100% of nothing.” And Mr. Hussein Barack Obama and the DNC didn't hire me, otherwise maybe the ~100 million unemployed during his 2 terms would be working and me retiring.

Is that why the deplorable majority finally hired a business man?... Would we ever, ever, hire another politician for President?

MY DEFINITION OF THE BRAIN ~1955:

What's a brain, teacher? This question was asked by one of my students when I was in my first week of being a 1st grade teacher about 60+ years ago. I had just graduated from teacher's college in Mexico. That question haunted me for the rest of my life. I did not have a clear answer, other than what I had replied to my student, who obviously didn't know what I was talking about when I told him: "The brain is a bunch of neurons connected to each other that are constantly passing and storing information." I didn't even understand it myself but it got me out of trouble... or so I thought!

MY FATHER'S DEFINITION OF GOD:

When I was about 9 years old I had asked my father about life, death, God, Satan, etc.! He waited until my initiation into manhood to give me his opinion, which took place when I was 13 years old, with answers like: "You begin to die when you are born." "If God is omnipotent can he build a rock so heavy that he cannot lift it Himself?" "The difference between humans and other animals is in your hands." What? I have nothing in my hands, I told myself turning them over and over! He never gave me a direct answer, but showed me the way to find the answer by myself (like the metaphor of not just feeding someone fish, but teaching them how to fish and how to provide for themselves). So, what's the difference? I kept on asking myself. The answer came to me about a year later one afternoon while I was walking my horse. I heard the rattling of a rattle snake on the farm where I was born, in Oaxaca, Mexico, when, by instinct, I grabbed a long stick and killed the rattler. After many blows I finally realized that it was dead. I threw the stick on the ground and looked at my sweaty hand. Suddenly I realized that I had been bitten on my left foot! I immediately removed my shoe, carefully made a small cut where she bit me, and then I sucked and sucked my blood until I lay exhausted on my back looking at the sky watching the clouds rotate. That is the last thing I remember. My luck? The snake had 13 rattles (13 years old = same as me) and her venom was old and weak.

ARE WE HUMANS ANIMALS?

My father was right, again! "The only difference between humans and non-humans is in our hands." Do you get it? If not, look at them! The primates like many other mammals have legs, arms, feet, toes, hands, and fingers right? But what is the main difference in the hand of an orangutan and that of a human? Look at the location of your thumb. That's the difference!

The moment that the humanoid rationalized that he could “grab” and hold a rock or stick and defend himself (or kill his enemy or next meal) and look at his act of firmly holding an object, his mind analyzed his act and thus began the human development of his brain by producing more and more neurons and... the rest is history! Do we agree then that the human brain and all its complex functions are no different than any other animal that has a big or a small brain? Why? Because we agreed before that a brain (any brain, a mosquito’s or a whale’s and all that fall in-between) is nothing but neurons that are interconnected to act as a receptor/transmitter of minute electrical signals in any animal. Also it’s a well-known fact that the human brain is the most vast and complex than that of any other animal known to us. So we can rationalize that the human brain is the most developed (physically speaking) than any other animal. Correct?

WHY I CALL IT THE NEW PLANTATION?

The old plantations had blacks as slaves which is discriminatory. "Why only blacks?" asked the founders of the New Plantation. Why not open the incoming (only) door to all races that eventually depend on us and "vote for us for years to come.” This was said verbatim by President Lyndon B. Johnson in 1965, when his bill was passed by the democratic majority in congress and senate and was known as “The Equal Rights” amendment and... Who was L.B.J.? Descendant of real plantation owners in Texas, US Senator, Vice President who very conveniently became president when his boss and current president, Kennedy, was assassinated by a very convenient, not-proven guilty assassin. This assassin was Lee Harvey Oswald, who in 1963 was then very conveniently assassinated by a democrat who was dying of cancer and who died a few months later without testifying to his reasons for killing the killer(?) of another US president. This allowed an unelected radical democrat to become the founder of the “New Plantation,” which doesn’t discriminate against anyone, as long as they remain in the plantation and depend on welfare while voting for democrats. I must admit that L.B.J was miniature in stature, but his brain ingenious! By the way, who killed J.F. Kennedy? Who benefited from his death? Yes! To catch a criminal, you have to think like a criminal.

WHAT’S THE BRAIN?

What is the difference between the brain and the mind? If a brain surgeon (such as Dr. Ben Carson) operates on your brain, he only physically operates on your brain correct? He has no control over your mind (the control of your mind is reserved for your parents, your teachers, anyone else who has an influence on your life, and ultimately yourself) which has nothing to do with the size of your brain, right?

SO WHAT IS “MIND”?

That’s a question that has been haunting me for many years even after having learned the definition of “mind” by the scientists who specialize on studying the human mind. They define it as “The power of analyzing both real and imaginary thoughts to arrive at a conclusion.” Right? But wait, other animals also react (analyze?) to learned events and make a decision (reflex?) based on the information learned. Take a mouse that sees a cat or vice-versa, they both are going to react instinctively to the encounter no different than how I reacted with the snake! Was my brain analyzing the situation or were my action purely the result of instinct? And if it was an instinct are we safe to say that humans are like other animals and simply react to instinct without using the analytical process of their mind? Do we act without rationalizing (studying the information acquired) and respond instinctively to the events, which may be real, imaginary, or learned, that face us?

DEFINITION AND FUNCTION OF THE AMYGDALAE

(REF.: STUDY.COM)

The amygdale is an almond-shaped section of nervous tissue located in the temporal (side) lobe of the brain. There are two amygdale per person normally, with one amygdale on each side of the brain. They are thought to be a part of the limbic system within the brain, which is responsible for emotions, survival instincts, and memory. However, this inclusion has been debated heavily, as there is evidence that the amygdale can function independently of the limbic system.

The amygdale is responsible for the perception of emotions such as anger, fear, and sadness, as well as the controlling of aggression. The amygdale helps to store memories of events and emotions so that an individual may be able to recognize similar events in the future. For example, if you have ever suffered a dog bite, then the amygdale may help in processing that event and, therefore, increase your fear or alertness around dogs. The size of the amygdale is positively correlated with increased aggression and physical behavior.

The amygdale in humans also plays a role in sexual activity and libido, or sex drive. It can change in size and shape based on the age, hormonal activity, and gender of the individual. For example, males who have low testosterone, or who may have been castrated (had their testicles removed), tend to have smaller amygdale, and, in turn, may also have a lower sex drive.

FEAR AND THE AMYGDALAE

It is important to state that the amygdale is most functional in immediate fear situations. Whenever our senses detect a change in our surroundings that could be dangerous, the amygdale is responsible for preparing the body for escape or defense. This is part of what is known as the startle circuit of the brain, which controls our attack response to being startled.

WELL, IS IT THE STUPID BRAIN OR IS IT THE BRAIN STUPID?

Many books have been written by learned and intelligent people about the human brain. They write from the physical, scientific, and analytical point of view and I don't even pretend to compare this work of mine to any of them. This humble presentation of mine is strictly written as a conversation between you and me, the reader and the writer, and no one else! Simply put: "A mano a mano."

At the beginning, we agreed that the physical brain has nothing to do with the mind. Right? We also agreed that brain surgeons have nothing to do with the mind. So, are there any mind surgeons? Is it possible to become a mind surgeon? Not if we define surgery as a physical act, and since the mind is not a physical entity it would be impossible to manufacture a surgery on the mind. So, where do we go from here? Are psychologists and psychiatrists mind operators? If yes, then what is their function and benefit? I have heard that their function is to aid people in need of getting their mind straight. But which way is straight? Isn't the mind a meta-physical collection of thoughts that allow you to arrive at a non-instinctive learned conclusion such as $1+1=2$? Why is it not $1+1=3$? Or even 5? Does it have anything to do with conventionally accepted norms known as common sense? So if you have a problem coming to the conclusion of $1+1=2$, should you go to a psychologist or a psychiatrist? If not, who would you ask for help? Or if you have problems understanding the Spanish word "mentiroso" would you go to a Spanish speaking person? And wouldn't you go to a German for the translation of the word "ferruchten?" What if you have a question about recent events that might affect your life or that of your family, such as changes in taxes? Or more specifically, how your taxes are managed by the government. Where do you seek help if you have doubts about the recent news on Obamacare? Would you go to a psychologist or a priest? Would you watch the news or go to a politician's rally? If you are a typical American, more than 90% of the population, you would watch the news and get information (not necessarily the truth) from the news media or the politician, right? Think about it while we go back to my confessions as a young communist trainee.

CONCLUSION: Therefore, the larger the amygdale, the kinder, gentle, loving, rational you are. The opposite would be that the smaller the amygdale the more radical, cruel, anarchist and criminal you are. They say that you should be able to tell the contents of a book by its cover. Get it?...Hint: Proportionally the elephant has a very large amygdale and the donkey has the smallest of all the mammals! Was it a coincidence or intentional how the political parties selected their mascots?... Have you ever seen a donkey in a circus?...

CONFESSIONS OF AN EX-COMMUNIST:

While attending teacher's college in Mexico in the 1950's, it was obvious that most of our "professors" (indoctrinators) were communist or radical liberal (and that hasn't changed). They were indoctrinating us students so we could spread the doctrines of communism to our students for decades to come. Don't believe me? Go to any college/ university (except Hillsdale and a few others). I even joined the Mexican Communist Party; my dad would have killed me if he knew, and attended indoctrination classes at the Soviet Union Embassy in Mexico City. We read lots of literature such as "The Communist Manifesto" and "Capital" and other works by Karl Marx and Friedrich Engels, Founders of the Communist International Movement in the late 1800's. Without going too deep into this I must confess that I ended up in jail for disruptive and violent demonstrations (which is the only way anarchists know how to protest). I caused property damages to places owned by innocent and hard-working business owners! My actions were wrong and I regret it and if I had the means I would pay them back with interest for the damage that we caused! A typical communist meeting at the Soviet Embassy was that of indoctrination, especially after our leaders attacked the United States for stealing half of Mexico during the War of 1846. Mexico lost the land from Texas to Oregon, and then there was the invasion by U.S. Marines in Veracruz in 1914 and on and on. The truth is that those events are true, but they knew how to incite and exalt the patriotism of us Mexican teachers. They manipulated us to learn to hate the U.S. with a vehement passion. What made an impression on me at 16 years old was the secrecy of the Soviet meetings. The leaders were always talking among themselves with evident secrecy and they would change the conversation when I, or anyone who was not powerful enough to know the details, would approach them. To me that meant “they don’t trust me, so why should I trust them?” The only books in the Soviet Embassy were strictly political. There was nothing about their history, soviet cities, people, culture, music, etc. Only political literature that endorsed their propaganda. It reminds me of today’s Confucius Institute!

In 1955 I was invited to the U.S. embassy for a 4th of July Independence Celebration. I attended, with the permission of my communist block leader, for the purpose of spying, but to my surprise when I was presented to other guests everyone was very open, cordial, friendly, and there were no political books about capitalism. There were mostly maps, magazines, lots of food and newspapers. While walking around without an escort, which was strictly forbidden in the Soviet Embassy, I came upon a table with small booklets on top. I made sure that no one was watching me and then I took two little booklets and hastily put them in my coat pocket (thinking that I was stealing them). I grabbed a drink and a sandwich and rejoined the party where everyone was talking to everyone else about anything! This made an impression on me because it was such a palpable incongruity to the secrecy of the meetings at the Soviet Embassy Communist Party. Since I didn’t know English, I had to get a dictionary to translate the title of the little booklet which was “The United States Constitution.” Wow! I was taken aback that their entire constitution was printed on 18 pages about 3x5” in size. Karl Marx’s The Communist Manifesto (actually written by Engels) is over 200 pages and the Mexican constitution is 122 (8x10) pages not including signatures! I went back to check it again and discovered that I was wrong! The U.S. Constitution was originally 4 pages, 4533 words plus ½ page of signatures. The “Bill of Rights” (I didn’t know what it meant) was 4 out of the 18 pages! I went to my then girlfriend, who was majoring in English, and had her translate all 4533 words plus the “Bill of Rights.”

After months and months of reading and almost comprehending the meaning of the words, phrases, and articles written by common people of all backgrounds, I came to the conclusion that I didn't understand it at all! Being born in a country where selfishness breeds success ("primero yo, despues yo y siempre yo"), why would anyone give up his/her liberty, freedom, and ambitions in exchange for equality? I learned the answer to this question many years later in this great country.

THE MIND IS A TERRIBLE THING TO WASTE:

As stated earlier, the brain and the mind are two entirely different things, right? The brain is a physical and material entity like a super highway. This super highway is what interconnects any and all "points of interest" in your journey through life. The mind plays the part of being those points of interest that you will arrive at in your life without incident? If the super highway functions efficiently of course. Bear in mind that this only holds true so long as you don't make your final mistake. Do you agree? Yes, you probably will deviate from your main course and learn to correct the detours. Yes, you will make many wrong decisions throughout your journey in life but as long as you don't lose focus of your goals and destiny you will arrive at your final destination, being the end of your journey and life. Hopefully you will be proud of yourself and patting yourself on the back for a job well done! A typical example was my 94 year old brother and mentor Bonifacius that just got to his final destination on 7/11/18. What a great life my brother had! I'm sure his last thoughts were: "Vida, nada te debo, vida, nada me debes, vida: estamos en paz."

Why did I deviate from the main purpose? It was to give you the opportunity to meditate, analyze, concentrate, and figure out how your own mind works with the help of your brain, which as we concluded, is only a superhighway to your final destination. Before you started your journey, you didn't know all the information available during your long trip in life, did you? All the knowledge you acquired, experiences you learned, speeches you've heard, books you've read, news you were bombarded with (true or fake) was all stored in your brain for your mind to analyze, and then later make an intelligent rational conclusion or decision. These pieces of knowledge may have led you to get trade experience and start earning money immediately or investing in your education for professional and monetary rewards or make the right choice of spouse or commit the rest of your life to the next presidential election as it might affect the future of your children and grandchildren! Isn't it scary? Yes, the future generations depend on your decisions of today, just like our founders' decisions have affected our lives even 242 years later. Don't you feel the urge to have your mind analyze the billions of bits of data that you have been fed on throughout your life and then have to decide who to vote for? What if you make the wrong decision that will strip the freedom and liberty that you enjoy now, from your descendants or future generations? Does the weight of the responsibility to "leave this world better than what you found it at birth" press on your conscience? Or is it (if you are a resident of The New Plantation) to have your descendants remain servants of your master for generations to come? Am I making my point? Again, life is like a one-way superhighway, there are no "U-turns," no rest stops, and no pit stops. There is only a continuous voyage from birth to death. So, what are you doing during your one and only shot at life? If your mind has the capacity to understand my last sentence, you still have the opportunity to do something for yourself. If not, then please donate my writings to someone else that might benefit from them and help them escape the new plantation! Now, I hope that I have helped you help yourself understand your mind's analytical decision making process.

WHAT'S COMMON SENSE? (THE MOST EXPENSIVE COMMODITY?)

First of all, common sense to me is not that common among other people and sometimes it makes no sense to others. What common sense is to me, doesn't necessarily have to be common sense to you and others. Right? But there are certain things that the society that we belong to deem as "common sense." Some cultures accept certain habits as socially acceptable, for example, in Muslim cultures burping aloud is a way to compliment good tasting food. Other cultures consider eating with their hands as acceptable. Then there are those cultures that encourage raping children, beating to death women who were accused of infidelity, cutting hands of accused thieves, throwing accused homosexuals from tall buildings, and beheading infidels. Right? In the United States of America, the consensus is that one should provide for their family, give protection, shelter, food, care, and education. This line of thinking also goes along with providing the opportunity for your children to learn how to provide for themselves and not to become dependents of anyone else. In other words: to enjoy liberty and freedom according to our society's laws and regulations. Correct? My father's definition of freedom was, "You have the right to do as you please, as long as you don't interfere in the rights of others." So, yes you can commit suicide as long as you don't cause pain and suffering to others that love you! Yes, the liberty to come and go and do as you please is included, as long as you don't trespass on the property of others (fence, wall, etc.). Get my point? So why is common sense an expensive commodity? Because, it is the result of many generations of trial and error evolution of the human mind!

WHAT DOES THIS HAVE TO DO WITH BRAIN, MIND, AND COMMON SENSE?

Let's assume that I'm on welfare (the plantation) and I'm a healthy capable human being, but I'm just lazy or I'm on drugs or whatever. Let's also pretend that I have no one that loves me or cares about me and I fake poor health to get admitted to the new plantation. Do you think I have the right to live at the expense of your hard-earned money via your taxes? Is it fair for me to leech off of you because the congressman, senator, or president you elected years ago passed the welfare law that gives me a free ride for life at your expense? Please read this last sentence twice and compare you answer to mine below.

Your answer: ...

Mine: Yes! You voted and therefore authorized your representative to represent you and vote for you in all matters! We're a representative republic not a democracy! And don't you ever forget it!

Do you remember how you voted in the last 20 years? Usually elections have an impact for the next 20-30 years or longer. Once a politician gets in, it is almost impossible to get them out, and that's why the silent majority wants a constitutional convention to limit all elected and appointed official in federal positions to 12 years maximum, including supreme court justices! Read my free books, which are available at www.thenewplantation.org for my solution to Supra Government.

In conclusion: How you voted in the past will affect you and yours for years to come. It will not only affect you for the next election but also it will affect how you will vote in the next presidential election. All these elections will affect your descendants. Why is this? Let's take the 2016 election, President Trump was elected by a great majority of electoral votes, we're a representative republic, not a democracy, and more than likely he (or Mike Pence) will be re-elected in 2020. If he keeps the lead in congress and senate he will also have the opportunity to replace three supreme court judges. So what, you might ask. If all that happens then the supreme court will have a majority of conservative judges for the next twenty years. Is that okay with you? Will that affect how you want your descendants to be governed? As you can see voting is not a brain exercise, but it is a mind decision after analyzing the issues, including real and fake news. Is it "common sense" then to learn these issues, analyze them, and let your mind make an intelligent decision? Isn't that what your ancestors did generations ago for you? In other words, don't be selfish to satisfy your ego. Sacrifice your personal desires, ambitions, and immediate needs for future generations. You are reading this because someone sacrificed their desires for you and all of us, otherwise we would still be in the caves or middle ages. Isn't that what our founding fathers did for us 242 years ago? I challenge you to remember this for every election even if it's only for mayor of your city. Remember, every grain of sand is needed to create a beach!

IS IT THE BRAIN? IS IT THE MIND? IS IT THE INSTINCT?

An instinct is a conditioned reflex that is either learned or inherited from many generations. Then slowly these are adapted to your own life experiences such as driving an automobile, riding a horse, or using a cell phone. They can all save your life or cause your death if you use them poorly. If I had used a stick that was too short to try and kill the rattle snake I wouldn't be writing this and you wouldn't be reading it, if my instinct had forced me just to jump back, the same result probably would have occurred. Right? What I'm getting at is that an instinct without the proper intervention analysis of the facts could produce undesirable results. I'll never forget the first time I was eligible to vote. I voted for someone just because he was a democrat, not because I had studied his past, and he ended up in Cook County (Chicago) Jail. It was a stupid instinctive decision I made and it was the last vote I cast without studying the facts. Why is it such a big deal? Remember that I was born and raised in Mexico where "it doesn't matter who you vote for but who counts the votes that matters.” I’m not a democrat or republican, I’m an independent, concerned about my children’s children inheritance of liberty and freedom. It is for them to protect, defend, and pass along to their descendants, just like our fathers did for us.

So, what did my brain have to do with my stupid instinctive decision? Nothing! The brain was just the superhighway for my neurons to allow the electrical signal to travel to its destination for my mind to analyze. Sadly I made the wrong decision because I had not considered the consequences of my actions, I voted without knowing all the facts or not identifying the real news versus the fake news.

CONVERSATION VS. ARGUMENT:

“Wow! Really? Is that how it works?” I was asked by a casual stranger I met on a cruise in the Great Lakes in 2017 after an unrelated conversation about our present political mess. I must admit that he and his wife are the first liberals whom I was able to hold an “open minded” political conversation with. Meaning that we were able to speak and let the other expose their point of view without interrupting and more important, keep an “open mind” to analyze the other’s point of view before debating them.

Remember when Barack Obama did the wave with communist dictator Raul Castro and the left wing media cheered?

I remember.

Our dialog went something like this:

“Are you writing a book?” “Kind of, it’s just notes for my next P.I. novel.” I replied.

“So, you are a writer?” “Not really I’m a wetback kraut.” He laughed after understanding my acronym for a “Mexican-German” and that broke the ice for us.

“What is it about if I may ask?”“It’s going to be about the brain, the mind, the thinking and analytical process of decision making.”

“You are a brain surgeon then?”I laughed, “No, I’m an engineer! But I have the urge of telling it like I see it before the next elections and I’m trying to save our country from disaster!”

“Oh! So, you are a liberal writer!” I laughed again. “Because I could answer your questions.” He continued.....“Well I’m not a writer but a liberal.”His wife interrupted and stated, “Him, but not me!”

“In reality, I’m not political” I said, “but I have been a democrat, a republican, and for many years now just a plain non-partisan conservative. I am a proud U.S. citizen by choice and I fell in love with the U.S. Constitution ~60 years ago. This great country that has given me the opportunity and protection within the laws to fail or succeed by myself.”

“Wow! Really? I have never heard anyone express himself like that!” His wife said. “I’m an African American and...”I interrupted her and said, “No, you are plain and simple an American! Aren’t you?”

“Yes,” she said, “We’re Americans! All humans just like you. Why do you feel so strongly about our political mess as you stated?”

“Because I have experienced the difference and maybe you haven’t.” I replied, “You see, I came from a country where politicians have “carte blanche” and it’s the ideal place for them to prosper. They do as they please and steal and waste and have the law to protect them and their compadres.” Like Socrates said: “Justice is the advantage of the rich and powerful.”

“Where is that?” ...“Mexico.” I replied. ...“But wait a minute we have been in Mexico many times and it seems normal to us.” ... “Have you ever voted in Mexico?” ... “No,” she replied. ...“That’s the difference!” I said. ... “What’s the difference?” ...“I voted in Mexico, I know how corrupt it is, and unfortunately, now there is very little difference between voting in Mexico and voting in America, but a few years and elections ago it was pretty significant,” I answered. ...“What do you mean?”

“I’ve been in this country for over 50 years and I have noticed a great apathy by voters not only to vote, but more important, to be educated about the candidates, parties, and differing issues. People have no interest in protecting their legacy for their own children and future generations. In other words, ignorance!" It's like they don't give a damn about the future of their children and our country! It's me, me, and me!

He was about to say something when his wife said, "Let him continue, I like him."

"Well, the way I see it, the American voter is becoming more and more like a Mexican voter. The politicians know it and they are having a great harvest." ... "What do you mean?"

"They are preying on the ignorance and indifference of the voters as well as their bias, which is mostly racial." There is a pervasive laziness: not to invest the time, to understand the issues and, more important, the consequences of their voting. To that, add the white's guilty syndrome for something they had nothing to do with and some blacks claiming restitution for something they never experienced. It would be like me protesting the Spaniards enslaving of Latino America for 300+ years! ... "Do you mean discrimination?" he asked.

"Not the way you might think of it, but yes, reverse discrimination." I continued. "Let me ask you both, who did you vote for last November?"

"Hillary." They replied, ... "Why?" After a few seconds of silence she said, "I must admit I was biased toward Hillary being a woman." ... Then he added, "I dislike Trump." ... How about in 2012? ... They both answered: Obama." ... But ma'am you said that you are not a democrat." "Yes but" ... It was because he's black right?" ... She nodded in a regretful gesture. "Me too," he said.

"Who did you vote for?" she asked. ... Trump I replied "Why? Because he's white?"

"No! It's because # 1) he's a businessman and not a politician and #2) I never trusted Hillary since the "Whitewater" fraud and Bill and Monica Lewinski's affair. To me it really demonstrated their lack of moral principles. That's why! If they are willing to cheat on each other, they will cheat on God!"

"You are so right!" she said." Well, I continued, did Obama live up to your expectations?

"No way!" they both replied. ... Why? "I must admit I was biased" ... Racist? I asked him.

“Well, now thinking about it, yes. I was hoping that he would do something about our decaying black family population.” Such as what?... “Become an example and a role model to our youth, after all, he was the first black president that rose out of nowhere and became the leader of the Free World.” He explained. “His wife also!” His wife interjected. That’s the problem! I said. “What do you mean?”

“The detail you brought up that ‘he came out of nowhere.’ No one knows where he truly came from. Everyone only speculates and talks, but no one can or wants to prove his real birth place, nationality, schools, and etcetera! He is a plain mystery. Why? Whom? “Now that you mention it, yes, he is an unknown to all of us! Who is he?” his wife almost shrieked.

I don’t know, I stated, but someone at the DNC (Democratic National Committee) knows and doesn’t want us to know. But why? Treason? Murder? Fraud? I’m not accusing but just questioning. Why is there the obsession of impeaching our legally elected president? Is it because he knows or can find the truth and destroy them and the entire DNC? Is that why, for the first time in our history, a president’s life has been verbally threatened by liberals? God! What’s happening?

“I have a question,” she said. “how do you know so much about our political system, being a foreigner? Sorry! Foreign born U.S. citizen? Are you a reporter, politician, writer?”...None of the above! I’m just a concerned citizen trying to help you help yourself and our country by just talking to you and helping you answer your own questions. But tell me, do you think Obama failed you and the black community?

“Yes! He did! He was just like all the liberal democrats, always telling us lies, lies, and lies and then blaming the republicans for it!” she exclaimed. “She’s right!” her husband added, “Like the Obamacare, the damn planned parenthood, the Solyndra fraud, the banks, and student bailout! All lies! Only lies!” he started to scream. .. “Calm down honey.” His wife said. “My biggest disappointment,” she continued, “is the great damage he has caused to our youth, especially blacks. This is not because they are black but because already over 40% of them are not employed but unemployable. And over 50% of our black population is on welfare. That has to stop!”

Her husband chimed in, “And what about our black families? Over 70% are not families, just single moms and fatherless kids. Over 75% of abortions are murdered black children.” “Even our grandson was aborted,” she said. “Murdered by our own daughter!” he said with tears in his eyes. Calm down, I interrupted, “how about continuing tomorrow if you want and I’ll bring some data?”

“Okay!” And we said goodnight.

After they left, I asked myself: How many millions are like them, who don’t know or want to admit they were wrong about Obama, Hillary, and the entire DNC? How many are in denial just because of shame or because they are just ill-informed of the facts and only watch and read fake news? And how many just because of ignorance or apathy or because of convenience and personal gain such as welfare? They all have brains and neurons but lack interest or reasoning or both. How can we help them help our great country before it’s too late? Germany was in the same situation during the 1920-30’s when Hitler became the so-called savior! The Fuhrer! The god! Many desperate Germans and brainwashed kids who were exposed to his speeches and their teacher’s indoctrination, which is not much different than our youth of today. Some Muslim terrorists that have lost all hope to have a productive life would rather collect their promised 72 virgins now by killing us infidels rather than waiting their turn after a normal death at old age.

Am I exaggerating? What would you do if you are in debt of hundreds of thousands of dollars, have lost 4-5 years of your life to get a certificate of B.S. in B.S., and cannot find anyone to employ you. You might be pretty desperate because the university officials told you that employers would fight for you after graduation and offer you $100k/year, but that didn’t happen and you were assured of that so you would give the university your (or taxpayer’s) money. Would you go back and live in the basement of your parent’s house and then later in the street as they lost their home because they guaranteed your loan? Or just take drugs to help you forget and then more drugs to avoid paying the loan by dying of an overdose? Or do you resort to prostitution or to ending it all or join a terrorist group?

REMEMBER WHEN COLLUDING WITH RUSSIA

Dixon-Diaz 07/17/2018

WAS COOL?

That to me is cowardice! Remember you even have the right to kill yourself, as long as you don't interfere with the right of happiness of those that love you! So, get up and be tall!

Talking about student indoctrination, I cannot help but compare today's student riots at the infamous U.C. Berkeley and other copycats against free speech (which is protected by our first {1st} amendment, but not by the liberal academia), to the Germany of the 1930's. This was where my father's siblings were divided much like our country now. Three of them were pro-Hitler, two were anti-Hitler, and three undecided. At this time my father was in Mexico raising his eight children (I'm number seven), so he was neutral. Uncle Hans was the dean of Berlin's gymnasium school, a vocational school, and he was anti-Hitler. My uncle Paul was a Panzer Tank commander in North Africa with General Rommel. Uncle Ronni was a nuclear physicist researcher in Peenemunde nuclear lab. Uncle Franz was a "U" boat submarine captain and my three aunts were not politically involved (they, along with their daughter, were raped by the Russian Victorian forces at the end). Uncle Hans, the dean, and his family were thrown out of their house and lost their jobs and land because he refused to mix politics with education. He would live with and pay for his own convictions. We all know how World War II ended. Germany was destroyed and divided by the Berlin Wall for the next 45 years (1945-1989).

Fast forward to about 20 years after WWII ended. Uncle Hans' kids (anti-Hitler) were all very accomplished. My cousin Winfred was the Mayor of Berlin. His brother, Joachim, the editor of Frankfurter Allgemeine, West Germany's most prestigious newspaper, and the author of one of the most acclaimed historical books about “Hitler”. My other cousin, Honnie, held the position of school superintendent. Last but not least, my other cousin Christa and her husband were both movie producers. Joachim’s last book was “Nicht Ich” (“Not I”), meaning that while most Germans were pro-Hitler (ultra conservative) because of necessity, his father, Uncle Hans, was willing to stand for his ethics and beliefs even at the cost of his life and family. His oldest son Wolfgang was killed at 18 years of age in WWII fighting for Hitler’s beliefs. Now the politically divided German branch of the family never talked to each other, even to the second (my) generation. I wouldn’t be surprised if they don’t talk to each other in heaven or hell. All as a result of their political beliefs. What a waste!

The day after, I met with my new cruise companions. They were anxious to continue our conversation after a night spent reading my latest P.I. book, “The New Plantation.” Briefly, here is how it went.

Tom and Annie asked me, “How dare you know so much about us that we don’t even know ourselves?”

“Very simple. I’m looking in from outside the glass bubble, you’re not. Let me explain and feel free to stop me any time you want. I was born in a real animal jungle where I had to learn to survive on my own or die. I had to outsmart my older siblings or not play with them at their physical and intellectual level. For example: they used to steal my food by distracting me, so I started to put jalapeno chile all over it. Then at school I was a target by the bigger and dumber kids because I was the youngest and the shortest. So, I did the homework of bigger kids in exchange for protection. They essentially were my bodyguards. In later years I became the student union leader (a magnet for the best looking girls) and...”

“What does that have to do with you knowing so much more about us than ourselves?” Tom interrupted me. “Wait,” Annie said, “he has a point, let him finish.” Have you heard about ‘The Natural Selection? I asked him. “You mean Darwin’s?” Tom asked, “But again what does that have to do with my question.” “Don’t you get it honey?” She asked him. “He’s applying all his learned experiences to every day happenings including our own dilemma!” What’s your dilemma? I interrupted. “Are we liberals or conservatives,” she replied. Are you in doubt of yourself? I asked. “Last night we could hardly sleep after our conversation and then reading you’re “The New Plantation.” We began thinking of our children and our lost grandchild. And the many millions more killed by the modern liberals Dr. Mengele and Margaret Sanger.” Annie replied. Wow! I interrupted her, You read my book! “Yes! We read it twice! Now makes sense. They want to kill us all. Or rather they want to control us! Being dead, we are of no use to them. Now it all makes sense,” he continued, “how can we stop them? Can you help us?”

“He’s already doing it honey, by talking to us, writing his books, and inciting our minds to think and question everything the “fake” news media feeds us!” Most important of all is helping you use the power of reasoning, also known as your mind. I interrupted. So, is it your mind or your brain? I asked them. Your brain is only a physical entity, a conductor of signal if you will. It is also the best filing cabinet to store data. Your mind is the search engine that finds that file, analyzes it, and hopefully makes an intelligent decision on the information learned, I concluded.

“Yes honey, we’re all exposed to almost the same information, but it depends on our brain, sorry, our mind, as to how we process it and decide what to do with it.” That’s what we call ‘difference of opinion. I interrupted her, “Is it ‘common sense?’” she asked.

I think common sense is nothing but a majority rule learned from thousands of generations. Then that ruling is passed on to us and it is up to us to pass it on to our future generations, I replied. “But nowadays lots of things in the political field make absolutely no sense,” she said. You mean political correctness? I asked her. “Yes, we’re continuously bombarded with things that are contradictory or disguised. Many of these things are against what our own parents taught us as being correct when growing up.” Do you mean politically correct or incorrect?” he asked her. “Yes! They are destroying our common sense with their P.C. version.” She responded, “Like you being an African American instead of just a plain American?” I asked her. “Exactly, that and millions of other P.C. terms like you said in The New Plantation, ‘P.C. is destroying our common sense but what’s their purpose?’” Annie exclaimed.

Like Napoleon said, ‘Divide and conquer!’ I replied. “Now I understand Obama’s urge to divide us from police, schools, military, colors, rich, poor, sex and the middle class, like us!” he practically screamed.

“Don’t forget, I interrupted him, Obama is simply their messenger. So don’t shoot him!”

“Yes!” she said, “And now going back it makes ‘common sense’ what you wrote about the real motive of the DNC.”

“They are great! What are you saying?” He almost angrily asked her.

“It’s been a fake, a lie, a 250 year old fake love.” She replied, “They are always pretending that they care for us and they want to protect us and they want to help us and are always thinking about our best interests but in reality all they want is to keep us down and control us. They are no different than a plantation master! I’ve had it!” She screamed furiously with tears on her face.

“Calm down dear,” Tom said, embracing her. “We have to wake up the others from this fake dream that has become a nightmare! Our families are being destroyed, fatherless children are killing each other, they are on drugs, in jail, and jobless without futures! We have to escape the plantation! But how?”

“Spread the truth, like he said, ‘help them help themselves’ like doctor Ben Carson, Colonel Alan West, Condoleezza Rice, and so many other successful black men and women.”

“Really?” I interrupted her. “What about the rest of Americans? Aren’t we all Americans? Almost 50% of Americans are dependent on the rest of us. Some because of real necessity, whether it’s physical or mental. ‘Blacks’ as you call them yourself are only about 12% of the plantation’s population. So are you going to abandon the other 38%?" "I'm sorry!" She said, "I have been brainwashed and brain dead."

Not really, I interrupted again, you have been absentminded! Working hard and honesty like most of us.

"He's right honey," he said, "your brain is perfect but our mind has been manipulated over many generations. Now I understand what President Lincoln meant by 'With liberty and justice for all.' Lincoln and over half a million Americans of all colors, creed, and means died for our liberty. But it is up to us to fight for justice and not only ours personally but for all Americans." "Where do we start?"

Long ago, I interrupted, my father, who was a self-made man, gave my siblings and I his definition of liberty and slavery. Of course, we didn't really understand what he meant at the time but it was something like this:

"THE FOUNDATION OF LIBERTY AND FREEDOM IS KNOWLEDGE AND EDUCATION! THE FOUNDATION OF SLAVERY AND TYRANNY IS IGNORANCE! KNOWLEDGE = POWER!"

"That is so true. My wife and I are both postgraduates and enjoy an upper middle class life but we don't really get involved in our community. We have friends from our childhood that hardly know how to read or write, nor can they comprehend the issues." "Wait a minute honey!" She jumped in. "Now I get it. You and I are more to blame for our country's problems than they are!" "Why?" He asked her.

"In spite of our 'advanced education,' culture, knowledge and income, we're accomplices of the radical left because we know it and have the intellectual means of correcting it and we do nothing! That's why!" She exclaimed. "Damn fake news!" He slammed his fist on the table causing the other cruise guests to lift their heads and look at us. "Sorry!" He apologized. "Ok, let's stop the B.S. and get busy as soon as we get home," she said. "Why wait another week?" I asked her. Don't leave for tomorrow what you can do today! "Is that another wise line from your father?" He asked me.

No, that was used daily by my mother, I replied.

“Dr. Fest, how do we get started? We’re in our 60’s and have only a few years to go. Do you have any advice on how we would help get ourselves and others out of the plantation?” “Yes please!” She chimed in.

#1) Do the exact same thing that the liberals and Hussein Obama do.” “If you want to defeat your enemy, get to know him!” “What? You got to be kidding! We don’t know how to lie!” They responded.

“Sorry, I meant organize your communities and ask others to help. Ask Dr. Ben Carson, who is now the head of H.U.D. I heard that he is setting up neighborhood committees around housing projects and is looking for and needs all the help he can get. And when you meet him give him my best regards.”

“Wow, you know Dr. Carson?” she said. Not really, we just met at a restaurant in Tucson. 2) Read, listen, and watch all sources of news. Watch the fake news channels such as CNN, MSNBC, ABC, CBS, NBC, etc. but also Fox News, Newsmax, Fox Financial, Sports, and others. I also encourage you to read the Wall Street News as well as the Arizona Red Star.

“The what?” he asked me. “We call it the Arizona Red Star but its name is the Arizona Daily Star.”

“Now I get it.” I listen to mostly independent and unbiased radio stations, because the liberals don’t have the audience to pay for commercials. “You’re right. I have no idea of any liberal radio stations where we live. I guess Rush Limbaugh is the king of talk radio,” she said, “isn’t he?” That’s up to you to analyze and decide. I replied. “Then what?” she asked.

#2) Talk openly to friends on both sides. Incite their mind to decide the issues as they are and not the way you want them to be. In other words, be yourself and your own judge.” “Sorry,” she interrupted, “isn’t that contradictory? Arguing within yourself about right or wrong?” Isn’t that what you do when you decide whether to cross the street in heavy traffic? I asked. “Oh, okay! You mean observe, understand, and analyze the issues before deciding what to do. Right?” You got it! I replied.

#3) Spread your own gospel. Find others that need your help to help themselves, the undecided. But don’t waste your time on the utopians that think humans are perfect and cannot tell right from wrong. Do not waste your time on the perpetual residents of the new plantation.” “Why?” He asked.

“Because they’re not going to shoot themselves in the foot!” she said. “No one, except the one that has hope of surviving on his own will vote against the democrats!” She continued, “Then what?” he asked.

#4) Teach them how to fish!” I said, “Let them be proud of themselves that they escaped the comfort of the birdcage in exchange for their freedom, liberty, and self-reliance. Most importantly, have them spread their own gospel. Jesus was one man, Adams, Franklin, Jefferson, Washington, Hamilton, Lincoln, etc. all were one man on their own. They also had fake news in the 1700’s and all throughout human history.” I said. “Brain washing has been perfected for millions of years. My father used to say , “As long as two humans are on the earth, one will always try to control the other.”

.....“How can we contact you? Do you have an organization yourself?” I’m one man spreading my gospel, I replied. You can contact me at josejimenez@thenewplantation.org and tell me how you are helping Americans help themselves.” We embraced and shook hands and went our own way. Hopefully we’ll meet again!

Pre-Conclusion: Okay, I have tried to expose the difference between the brain and the mind, hopefully with some success. Now to reaffirm my theory:

1. All living animals or beings including cells, bacteria, virus, donkeys, elephants and blue whales have brains.
2. The brain is nothing but an organ whose function is to administer, route, and respond to stimuli in the form of electrical signals. These signals are received from all sources including reflexes from cold, heat, pain, etc., but also to electrical signals generated by internal organs such as the stomach (hunger), eyes (light/color), and the hippocampus/hypothalamus/amygdala etc., such as emotions (like, dislike, love, hate, envy, attraction, repulsion, etc.) as well as the most complex of them all: reasoning.
3. Let’s call the process of reasoning, and all its complex known and unknown causes and affects the “mind” for simplicity’s sake.
4. Let’s also assume that no animal other than humans have a mind or the power of reasoning.

5. Because the mind is an ever-evolving entity it is subject to evolution because it stores and uses every piece of data earned and learned. Therefore, it is easily manipulated by the internal, as well as the external experiences: be them physical or mental, real or imaginary. Aren't dreams imaginary but within themselves real? Many of my dreams are repeats of previous dreams and while I'm dreaming I often have lucid dreams. In these lucid dreams I tell myself, "I've dreamt this before" or "I'm dreaming, the lion won't eat me" or "too bad I'm dreaming, I wish this was real."

If I have made my point that your mind can be taught by yourself, then I have succeeded in my goal of convincing you that the mind of any human can be taught, while being conscious or subconscious, right? Another personal example is when I was at IIT and I was a non-native English-speaking student and I was trying to compete with other English-speaking students. We were all going for our masters/PhD and I was at a disadvantage because of my language barrier, but instead of complaining of discrimination, I overcame it by using my mind to solve my own problem. I recorded all my classes and played them back while I was asleep. That was in 1962-65. The result of all this? I graduated 2nd out of 13 candidates. I was holding three part-time jobs, supporting an ill and pregnant wife, and sleeping about 2-3 hours a day. What do you think psychiatrists and psychologists use to treat the mentally disturbed? Brain waves? No, just the power of repetitive persuasion. The same technique that politicians have and will continue to use for thousands of years! Yes, old fashioned brainwashing, the same that the news media, colleges, and universities use to indoctrinate our children with our own money! And if you have understood all I have written so far, the same technique that I'm using to convince you that it's the mind. Not the stupid brain. The rest is up to you!

In conclusion I want to ask you why the Democratic Party is so popular with the average voter population in spite of their well-known history of acting completely the opposite of what they preach? "If you ignore history you'll be doomed to repeat it." So, let's once again analyze the facts.

1. The present DNC was founded by plantation owners.
2. A plantation was an agricultural enterprise owned and managed by rich whites and worked by African slaves. These slaves were captured by their own African enemy tribes and then sold to Muslim slave traders, who then sold the survivors all over the world (except Mexico and central America because they had their own slave population, Indians – the defeated indigenous population – Aztecs, Mayas, Zapotecas, Incas, etc.). They did sell millions in Brazil because the native Indian population had disappeared due to imported diseases (small pox, diphtheria, etc.).

3. The surviving African American slaves had been brainwashed for generations by their white masters to think of themselves as sub-humans, useless, and good for nothing without the guidance and protection of their masters (plantation owners).

4. The founders of the present Republican Party called themselves federalists while the present Democratic Party called themselves democratic republicans. Then they switched names and it wasn't until President Andrew Jackson, the largest slave owner in the USA, that they renamed themselves the Democratic National Party. Abraham Lincoln renamed the Federalists as the Republican National Party. As we all know Abraham Lincoln was the one who fought for equal rights for the African Americans during the Civil War. The Civil War of 1861-64 between the North and South took the lives of over 600,000 Americans (3% of their population). Have you heard of "segregation?" The Equal Rights amendment? Martin Luther King? School buses, welfare, equal education rights, equal housing laws, equal, equal, and equal but yet so different? For over 240 years the DNC has been brainwashing us all that they love us and want to protect us and want the best for all of us. They even so graciously gave us their crowned jewel, Obama. The first African president with his American black wife Michelle! But historically based on statistics, the American blacks had their worst prosperity during Obama's control. These numbers are worse than any previous period and there's a huge decline in population (planned parenthood?), decline in black family (72% fatherless black children), the highest jail inmate population (52% vs 12% of population), and highest crime rate (Chicago, New Orleans, Detroit). If you want you can read all about it in my previous politically incorrect (P.I.) novels The New Plantation and The Kingdom without a King at www.thenewplantation.org

BACK TO BASICS?

Like Tom and Annie said, “We blacks, as a race, have to go back to basics.”

I responded, “That’s the problem. You keep on differentiating yourself from the rest of humanity Annie. You’re human and that’s the end of it! Color, religion, height, and weight don’t matter. Only what is in between your ears matters. You are confirming what I have said before and what was confirmed by the Obama elections: blacks in general suffer from self-inflicted wounds, self-discrimination, and an inferiority complex which is all caused by generational brainwashing by the DNC masters.”

With tears in her eyes, she hugged me and said, “Oh Lord, thank you! It’s my stupid brain.”

“No!” I replied. “It’s the mind controlled by your amygdala. Stop playing the victim of others while the hurt is of your own doing.” Those last words between us is what inspired me to write my short definition of the brain and mind. Is it the stupid brain or the mind? What do you think?

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE PRESENT ADMINISTRATION:

1. Unemployment rates are at an all-time low of 3.8%, companies cannot find qualified workers!
2. Lower taxes for all. I was able to give all of my employees a $3000/year raise (including sick pay, vacation, insurance, operating expenses, and more). That’s what one dollar an hour represents!

3. China agreed to play ball with Mr. Trump (our majority elected president) and lower their import duty on our exports which means more jobs for us.
4. North Korea agreed to stop bluffing us. Did you watch the 1959 movie "The Mouse That Roared"?
5. Canada and Mexico regretfully agreed to be "fair" with us and lower their subsidies to their exports. Mexico also increased its minimum wage to $1.50/hour.
6. Mr. President got us out of the pacific free trade trap (NAFTA) and also out of the so called "Paris Accord" (United [against USA] Nations).
7. The market is up 50% since Mr. Trump's election. I have made more money through that than in my small company. Over 50% since Mr. Trump became president!
8. Trump was successful in choosing our new Supreme Court Justice Neil Gorsuch, and Brett Kavanaugh is next! A potential 20+ year's majority?
9. Justice Kennedy announced his coming retirement and we're awaiting Justice Ginsberg to make the same announcement. That will give the conservative wing a 5 ½ to 3 ½ majority. We're still waiting for Chief Justice Roberts to admit he was wrong by calling Obamacare a tax. It's a tax on something you don't get anything in return for, except higher taxes, higher insurance and medical costs. He is the ½ vote above.
10. The Father RINO (Senator McCain) refused to resign. He wanted the whole show one more time in the swamp! Before he turns it over to the fake (Flake).
11. Criminal mind Muslims, ISIS, is kaput for now. You can read about fanaticism at www.newplantation.org. Thank you Mr. President!
12. Iran is bankrupt after Obama's illegal $150 billion gift. This gift was payed for by your taxes and is now under investigation. Make it ~$450 Billion!
13. Trump failed (so far) in what you and I and millions of others have succeeded in doing: building doors, gates, and walls around our homes! Isn't your house protected against illegal intruders? Please teach me what the difference is between our house and our country!

Recap: Well 97% success ratio isn't bad, is it? Late News: Mexico City, Mexico, my home country, elected its first officially declared socio-communist president. Watch out Cuba, N. Korea and Venezuela, you have competition! No wonder they are coming!

BACK TO CRUISING THE OHIO RIVER (MY HYPOTHESIS IS CONFIRMED)

Tonight, July 3, 2018, I had a typical encounter with another passenger during my cruise on the Ohio River. I was happily enjoying my cigarette after dinner on the open deck. I was all alone when suddenly a woman approached me and started telling me how bad smoking was. She said that her father died of lung cancer due to smoking. I played dumb and let her talk for almost a ½ hour almost uninterrupted. When we got to politics I said I was apolitical and she began her spiel. This is how her speech (not conversation) went. "Political correctness is good so we don't hurt other people's feelings." You mean humanity has been wrong by calling a person deaf for thousands of years? "Yes, that is offensive! It is more appropriate to say 'hearing impaired' or physically limited instead of handicapped." You mean I have to learn the new English at my age? Then I asked her, Was your father the only one that died of lung cancer? "No, my brother and two uncles also did." Did they smoke? "No, that's what is strange," she replied. You said you are in the medical profession, right? I asked her "Yes, but only as a health advisor, not a doctor." Have you heard about genetics? I asked. "Of course, but that has nothing to do with it." Huh? She then switched to the president we elected and how he makes millions of children suffer by separating them from their mothers. I thought Obama made that call 6 years ago by executive order? I asked her. "Oh no, Trump did it." "Where do you get your news?" she asked. "Radio, TV, and newspapers," I replied. "You should watch MSNBC, ABC, CNN, CBS, NBC, and The Post". She said, Aren't those that Trump accuses of fake news? "He's the fake, spreading lies all over Twitter and on Fox News: back to the smoking; "you should consider quitting. It's not good for you and the environment." Should I chew tobacco instead? I asked her. "Yes." How about marijuana now that it's legal? "I guess it's ok since it's legal," she replied. Did you watch the fireworks last night? I asked her. "Yes, they were great." They lasted for half an hour continuously, I replied. I read that they use 17 tons of explosives that is equivalent to about 100 million (1/3 of U.S. population) people smoking at one time. Do you think that's harmful? "No, because it's not tobacco. Besides, it brings joy to all viewers instead of only the smoker." I decided not to waste my time anymore and politely walked away. Good luck Mrs. Adams! I wondered what the size of her amygdale is compared to Tom and Annie's.

THE NEW DNC, THE BEGINNING OF ITS END?

Over 50 years after his death, Saul Alinsky's teachings are alive and well through the radical leaders of today's DNC. I encourage you to read his "Rules for Radicals" and my first and second P.I. novels, "A Kingdom Without a King" and "The New Plantation," respectively. Some of Alinsky's disciples were: Bill Ayers, Bernardine Dohrn, Louis Farrakhan, Jeremiah Wright, Alan Sharptongue, and Hillary Clinton. Later, they all spread his gospel to modern radicals such as Hussein Barack Obama, Michelle Obama, Valerie Jarret, and more. Today's DNC has drastically become the party of denial, hatred, and radical anarchism. They have successfully implemented Alinsky's "Rules for Radicals."

A short recap of DNC history will prove that the title, "It's the Brain, Stupid" is appropriate. Don't forget, I'm a foreign-born proud U.S. citizen and English is my 4th language. My experience in the U.S. is a cultivation of 60 years. I came here at the age of 22 after experiencing all the political corruption in Mexico. If my statements are not correct, write to me at josejimenez@thenewplantation.org.

Some short historical facts of the DNC: it was founded by slave owners in 1779. They delayed the freedom of slaves they "owned" because the southern states, Virginia, Carolina, Georgia, and others, would face too many hardships. They demanded that slaves be counted as eligible voters for the purpose of gaining more representatives in the U.S. congress. They didn't want them to actually be free to vote or live their lives as free men. Any slave trying to flee to the north was to be killed on sight. They also demanded that all "fugitives" that succeeded were to be returned to their "owners." After Abraham Lincoln demanded obedience to the Constitution Laws, the DNC sided with the rebel states and instigated the Civil War responsible for over 600,000 soldiers being killed. After the DNC lost the war, they assassinated Mr. Lincoln on April 15, 1865. His killer, John Wilkes Booth, a Klansman, was the first to murder a president! Years later the infamous KuKluxKlan was founded by prominent DNC members. They founded this for the purpose of segregating the Blacks (and Mexicans from the US-Mexico War of 1846). They wanted to keep them ignorant and poor. It wasn't until ~1960 when Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. did his famous peaceful marches and speeches (which ultimately led to the end of his life by a DNC member). His assassination happened after the governor of Alabama, George Wallace (a DNC leader running for president in 1972), made a speech inciting the moderator to go after King Jr.

THE COMPASSIONATE PARTY?

After the Civil War, most free blacks became members of the Republican Party and the DNC faced extinction. So they changed their discriminatory policies and became the "compassionate party" to attract more blacks and Hispanics into their ranks. They use the well-known political techniques explained by Karl Marx in "The Capital" and more important, in "Rules for Radicals" from Saul Alinsky. Alinsky's basic rules are implemented by today's DNC such as: repeat, repeat, and repeat the lie, eventually it'll become the truth. Herman Goering, head of propaganda of the Nazi Party also employed this technique. If you get caught in a lie you just deny, deny, deny, and blame the opposition. Be compassionate to the minorities but feed them our version of the truth. Keep them hungry so they have no time to think about politics or their future (a favorite of Mexican politicians). Keep them ignorant so they only listen to our version of the truth. They employ Napoleon's strategy of divide and conquer for things like race, political correctness, religion, sex, family, and political affiliations. If their opponents do something right, they take credit for it (economy, employment, the Death of ISIS, lower taxes, stock market, illegal children and family unification, etc.).

A MIRACLE?

A miracle is taking place as we speak: more and more blacks and Hispanics are becoming more educated (I'm one of them) and are less susceptible to "brainwashing" by either party. Will they form or join the 3rd political party, the Tea Party or equivalent?

ILLEGALS: THE FUTURE DEMOCRATS?

Since the 2016 election of Donald Trump, the DNC has lost lots of members. Blacks and Latinos are leaving the DNC, so where is the DNC going to get their support from (fake votes)? California wants to divide the state into 5+ new states to get more representatives in Congress, like the slave owners of the 1800's, to get more numbers. Will Californians revolt against ultra-liberalism, anarchy, and ultra-high taxation? I live in Arizona and we are being invaded by fleeing Californians. Is this an exodus from control?

IF ALL ELSE FAILS, THEN WHAT?

Are we witnessing the beginning of the end for the DNC? We have seen an epidemic of hate propaganda by the leaders of the DNC (or progressive or liberal or socialist or whatnot). They make hate propaganda not only against the "deplorable" and the Trump administration, but also our centuries old history, statues, culture and our glorious flag, which were established with the common sense principles of freedom and responsibility for the nation. They support the "it's my way or no way" new dogma. If you don't agree with me, then you should take a look at the facts. Have you tried to hold an open political discussion with a liberal? Do they ever let you finish your sentence? Does it end in an amicable disagreement? Will they ever permit the First Amendment to be exercised by anyone not liberal? Will the New Plantation endure after the 2020 re-election of Trump (if they don't repeat Abraham Lincoln, John Kennedy & Dr. Martin Luther King's end)? Are they digging their own grave? Can we help them?

YES WE CAN!

All we conservatives have to do is: educate the electorate (no fake news) educate our children and everyone's child because "knowledge is power" because "the fountain of freedom is education," just like "the fountain of tyranny is ignorance." Which do you want for your descendants?

IT'S THE BRAIN, STUPID? OR IS IT THE STUPID BRAIN? NEITHER, IT'S THE AMYGDALAE!

As I tried to explain in the beginning of my dissertation, the brain is just a physical entity, the reasoning is the monopoly of the mind and the function of the mind is strictly the administration of the "learned" data acquired and stored in the brain – agree? In other words, assuming that we have a normal brain, the only difference between you and the rest of humanity is the amount of data (knowledge). The type of data (an M.D. could be an eminence in medicine, but ignorant about electricity or vice versa, correct?). Take for instance Dr. Ben Carson, a genius brain surgeon, but not a politician (he doesn't know how to lie), or Mr. Hussein Barack Obama, an excellent teleprompt reader and community organizer, but a mediocre historian

(remember his speech about the 57 states of the union, is that what he learned in Indonesia?) and politician (he doesn't remember the lies he told). A good liar must have a great memory! For example, "If you like your whatever, you can keep it.” Now take our president Donald Trump, an astute and successful businessman and leader. All 3 have a similar (physical) brain, but very different minds, and more important, a different amygdala! Say what? What does the amygdala have to do with politics? Not so much with politics, but with reasoning and emotions (compassion, cruelty, love, and hate). The size and function of the amygdala has been proven to make a big difference in the process of reasoning and emotions. The larger your amygdala, the more caring and compassionate you are, just like the smaller your amygdala, the crueller you are. Check me out! Google it! Consequently, I concluded that terrorists may have only traces of an amygdala, while people like Mother Theresa have a giant amygdala. Agree?

The person that obliterated the image of Mr. Trump on the rear window of my car last week (while parked at Walmart) did so because he/she hates anything/anyone that is not liberal, and they must have a miniature amygdala. Agree? Coward! Why didn't he/she confront me?!

I wonder if conservatives and liberals would donate their brain so scientists could measure the size of their amygdala, especially the “deplorable.” I guess we'll find out if I'm right or wrong by November 10th in 2020, a day before my 83rd birthday! Will the silent majority of undesirables scream? Good luck to us all! We will need it.

WELL, WHAT IS IT? THE BRAIN OR THE MIND?

The brain is an organ no different than the lungs, the heart, or the stomach. Agree?

The mind is an administrator, storage cabinet, and executor of the information stored in the brain. Very much like a Supreme Court Justice. Agree? The mind is not an organ, but the ability of each individual (you) to analyze the data and make an intelligent (?) informed decision as guided by the amygdala, a small organ whose size varies from individual to individual (animals have them too). How, via electro-chemical signals which travel at the speed of light!

So just like Supreme Court Judges make decisions that affect us all, so does the mind, and instead of interpreting the great U.S. Constitution, the mind responds to a little gland under the brain called the amygdala. It is a scientifically proven fact (check it out) that for some unknown reason the physical size of the amygdala is directly related to a person's emotional behavior, reaction, and their emotions, especially kindness, love, hate, sacrifice and many more. The interesting thing is that the more "deplorable," benevolent, loving, and caring you are, the larger the amygdala and the crueler and more criminal and destructive you are, the smaller the amygdala! Interesting, isn't it? So I guess Jesus Christ and his apostles must have had huge amygdalas and Josef Stalin, Hitler, and Mohammed (ISIS, Taliban, criminals, pirates, etc.) must have almost none. Right?

Why did I list Mohammed along with Hitler and Stalin? Didn't he interpret the order from his god to "convert all infidels to Muslimism or tax them or kill them all"? Ok I might be exaggerating a little to make my point equating the amygdala to our present political dilemma and disintegration of our unity as a nation, but have you noticed who incites violence, destruction, lies, innuendos, and has even murdered four of our presidents (McKinley, Garfield, Lincoln, and Kennedy) and tried to kill Reagan and what their political affiliation was? Have you noticed the political discussions on TV? When a conservative person speaks, the liberal speaks or screams over the conservative to prevent him/her from stating his/her point? Isn't this a sign of mental violence? Isn't the use of offensive language ("F" word and others) a form of mental violence? Wasn't Whoopi Goldberg rude, violent and didn't she attack Justice Jeanine Pirro after inviting Pirro onto her TV show on 7/19/2018. Goldberg screamed at her and continuously interrupted Pirro when she was making a point so you wouldn't understand her. Goldberg realized that Justice Pirro was making sense, so Whoopi Goldberg screamed at Pirro to "get the 'F' out of my show, my building" not once or twice, but five times. Wonder what's the size of rioters and Whoopi's amygdala? Just think about it!

MY FINAL CONCLUSION (YOU MAKE YOUR OWN):

As I told my now friends Tom and Annie: I don't understand you blacks! You know that the liberals are the same as the democrats, same as the confederates, same as the KuKluxKlan, and the same as the slave owners that you hate so much (amygdala?), but which 95% of you vote for? Is it masochism (pleasure received from pain)? Or is it xenophobia (fear of the unknown)? As I stated in my previous P.I. novel (www.thenewplantation.org) we humans have been master and slaves of each other for millions of years and this will continue until the last human being is alive. Get over it!

Escape the new plantation and become your own master (or remain the slave of your own fear of freedom) and self-reliant so you can help your amygdale grow! Remember: "God only helps those that help themselves"!

Last thought just now! What if? ... What if the liberal leader's reason behind their hate for Trump is only to protect themselves against Trump having proof that they committed treason, murder or crimes against our great country? Think about it!

SUBLIMINAL OR ACCIDENTAL MASCOTS?

Donkey vs. Elephant? Subliminal coincidence or by design? The donkey (mascot of the DNC) has the smallest brain to body ratio. The elephant (the mascot of the republicans) has the largest brain to body ratio! In Mexico (when I was a teacher) we called slow learning kids, “burro” (donkey). In the farm where I was born and grew up it took us twice as much time to train a burro than a horse! Interesting isn't it? We call them “Pendejos.” You decide.

WHO IS B. HUSSEIN OBAMA?

By Dr. Jack Wheeler

The O-man, Barack Hussein Obama, is an eloquently tailored empty suit. No resume, no accomplishments, no experience, no original ideas, no understanding of how the economy works, no understanding of how the world works, no balls, nothing but abstract, empty rhetoric devoid of real substance.

He has no real identity. He is half-white, which he rejects. The rest of him is mostly Arab, which he hides but is disclosed by his non-African Arabic surname and his Arabic first and middle names as a way to triply proclaim his Arabic parentage to people in Kenya. Only a small part of him is African Black from his Luo grandmother, which he pretends he is exclusively.

Notice His Patriotic Hands???

What he isn't, not a genetic drop of, is 'African-American,' the descendant of enslaved Africans brought to America chained in slave ships. He hasn't a single ancestor who was a slave. Instead, his Arab ancestors were slave owners. Slave-trading was the main Arab business in East Africa for centuries until the British ended it.

Let that sink in: Obama is not the descendant of slaves, he is the descendant of slave owners. Thus, he makes the perfect Liberal Messiah.

It's something Hillary doesn't understand - how some complete neophyte came out of the blue and stole the Dem nomination from her. Obamamania is beyond politics and reason. It is a true religious cult, whose adherents reject Christianity yet still believe in Original Sin, transferring it from the evil of being human to the evil of being white.

Thus, Obama has become the white liberals' Christ, offering absolution from the Sin of Being White. There is no reason or logic behind it, no faults or flaws of his can diminish it, no arguments Hillary could make of any kind can be effective against it. The absurdity of Hypocrisy Clothed in Human Flesh being their Savior is all the more cause for liberals to worship him: Credo quia absurdum, I believe it because it is absurd.

Thank heavens that the voting majority of Americans remain Christian and are in no desperate need of a phony savior. He is ridiculous and should not be taken seriously by any thinking American.

And yet he got elected, not once but twice. Thanks to those who did not think it was important to vote for freedom and those who were willing to give up their freedoms for entitlements.

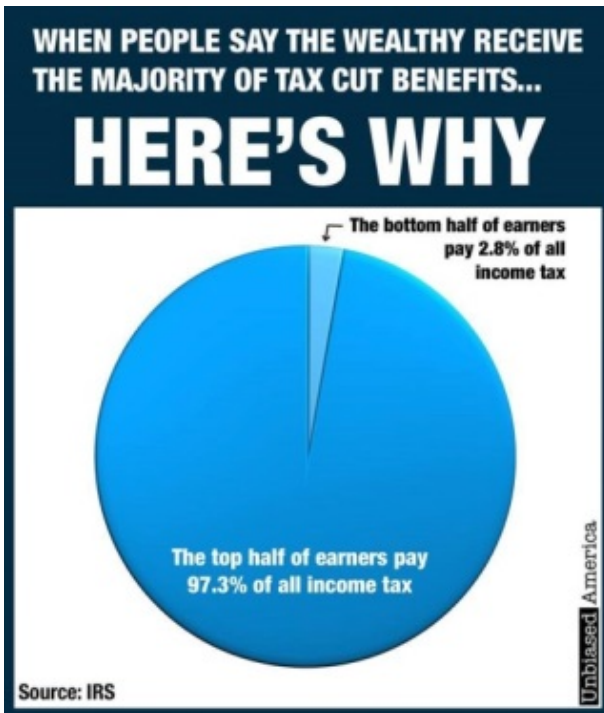

Remember you don't have to be on a southern plantation to be a slave, if you are dependent on government entitlements you just have a different slave owner.

PASS THIS ON TO EVERY THINKING AMERICAN YOU KNOW

HOW TO CLEAN THE SWAMP

There are 2 ways that I know (other than the anarchist/radical way):

1. The Hard Way, (as done by humans under Soviet communist dictatorships) is to produce only enough to survive and often at the lowest quality until the system (government) implodes. This way is what the satellites of the Soviet Union did, along with Germany, Poland, Hungary and others who produce the worst quality products (that no one would freely buy), but are forced to do so by their masters (politburo). This takes years. It took them over 50 years to break the Soviet Union with President Ronald Reagan's assistance, made famous by his November 9th, 1989 quote, "Mr. Gorbachev, tear down that wall!" What's a Politburo? The Elite Club.
2. The easy way:

2.1 By calling a States Convention, repealing the 16th amendment (income tax) and instituting the FAIR TAX, which is a flat sales tax on all you purchase. We all benefit, we all pay according to our purchases. The more you have, the more you buy, the more you pay. get it? This will limit the wasteful expenditures of the politicians, aka: "pork barrel" (compadrasgo). We don't buy=they don't have the money to waste. The poor will be the first to complain and vote for reform.

2.2. Setting Term Limits for ALL bureaucrats elected or appointed to 12 years! Yes including Supreme Court Justices. This would eliminate/reduce obsolescence, fraud, and give an opportunity for others to serve the Nation. For continuity, the last year of the incumbent to be used to train the newcomer.

2.3 Use the government to GOVERN, administer the wealth and protect its citizens. NO direct labor of any kind. This means: subcontract everything and put out for bid all services, except defense, security and law enforcement.

2.4 Prohibit ex-bureaucrats from becoming lobbyists (compadres) for at least 10 years after end of service.

2.5 Every new law passed by Congress to be read 100% and signed by every member of congress and be limited to 300 words. Upon approval, the law can then be rewritten by the proper agency in no more than 500 words and be read, approved and signed by every member of congress. Any old law/regulation that the new one overlaps or renders obsolete, should be invalidated by the same congress that instituted the new one.

2.6 Institute a new Department of Waste and Fraud Control (DWFC) to be staffed by volunteers assigned by every State of the Union. No salary shall be paid but traveling/living expenses shall be reimbursed to them. They shall have subpoena powers and be able to indict the accused. There are plenty of great patriots that will be happy to volunteer. The founders did! I know this is a lot to hope for but this is my own opinion. What's yours?...

MY CONCLUSION (What's yours?):

Never since the Civil War, which took the lives of over 700,000 great Americans and the life of our first assassinated President Mr. Abraham Lincoln, has the anarchist Democratic National Party (DNC) been so divisive, offensive, belligerent, destructive and plain Anti-American. Is it because the conservative law abiding citizens (who died for the freedom of the slaves 150 years ago) unmasked their Ku Klux Klan, passed legislation to give equality to all colors and races in the 1960s (remember the riots?) and opened the gates of the New Plantation? The conservatives helped them become self-sufficient, reliant,

Sanctuary City

FREE and independent from their new master, the welfare state. The welfare state is controlled by no other than the Deep State, aka: Obama's Fifth Column.?

Like Tom and Annie said to me "What the *^%# did Barack Hussein Obama do for us & the US? Our children are fatherless, being murdered by doctors before being born, by gangs in the streets, we're unemployed and have no pride in ourselves, no jobs, no culture, and no hope."

AN EXPERIENCE OF A LIFETIME! (MY GIFT TO YOU!)
NIGHT OF 7-13-18
(NOTHING TO DO WITH THE ABOVE,
BUT ALL WITH THE MIND!)

Suspended animation? Near death experience? Self-hypnosis? As usual, nightly, after a very relaxing and meditative swim-exercise in my Jacuzzi, while in bed I concentrate my thoughts on anything that brings me pleasure such as my children and I try to avoid thinking of any problems or unpleasant events (this usually takes 1-2 minutes before work). I then fall into a very restful and uninterrupted sleep for 7-8 hours.

Ever since I was a child I always wondered about the “other” world within myself. Yes, “the other me” (which we all have) which I have very little control over, but in actuality, it controls me (and you). I’m talking about that about 1 kilogram (around 2 pounds) of gray matter encased in our craniums. Yes, the neurons within our brains. The neurons control five out of the six (that we know) main senses such as sight, sound, touch and scent, but what about the sixth sense? Yes... thinking, (emotions, reactions, learning and creating). What about its counterpart: destruction, which along with all its adjectives, is what we call the criminal mind!

I will revisit my analysis of a criminal mind later in this writing. In the meantime, let me regress to the beginning of this exposé to the topic of self-hypnosis?

Ever since childhood, being influenced by my father’s teachings and conversations, I have wondered about the inner working of my mind, always trying to figure out the why, how, where, when, and the reasons we humans are unlike other animals (that we know). We do what we do as a product of reasoning or reactions to events that affect us. But what about dreams? Why do we dream of events never-ever experienced in our daily life, or why do we have repetitive dreams on the same subject with the same ending, to the point of even telling ourselves while dreaming things like, “Oh, I’ve dreamed this before,” or “It’s ok I won’t die from these bullets because I’m dreaming,” or “No, that’s not the way my dream is supposed to end.” In other words, my mind is conscious during my sleep so that I know I’m just having a dream.

In my youth I took special courses in psychology and psychiatry and participated in the physiological description of dissected brains taken from famous criminals and from benevolent humans, as well as from average humanoids. There was little or no physical signs of any difference between them. I abandoned this study except for the one field that I identified with, hypnosis.

Hypnosis? I learned from my father how to hypnotize animals. The easiest were the chickens, all you do is put their head under their wing (the left wing is the most effective) and lay them down over the left wing and they would remain immobile (sleep) for hours! Pigs? Just hang them upside down, cover their eyes for a few minutes and lay them down, unless you touch them briskly, they'll remain in suspended animation for hours. Dogs are the same, but you wake them up by calling their name loudly.

I realized at my young age that I could hypnotize humans willing to be hypnotized with ease and even unwilling participants that trusted me by reciting a few calming words while they were in transition.

MY NEAR DEATH EXPERIENCE?

For many years I wondered how animals hibernate for months during the winter (and some during the hot summer months in the desert) by instinctively slowing down their metabolism to the point of suspended animation. Why shouldn't I be able to do it as well? So, one night while falling asleep I had no feeling of the contact of my body with the bed sheets and I "saw" images in my mind of persons, animals, or "sights" related to my transition from conscious to subconscious aka: falling asleep. I realized that I was entering into a state of "limbo." I felt my heart pulsing, my breath inhaling and exhaling and I tried to move my fingers, hands, arms, feet, toes, anything but I couldn't! I remained in that "suspended animation" for who knows how long, minutes or hours, but it was an extremely relaxing trance almost like having no body (since I could not feel any part of it) and only mind! So I decided (conscious of my state of suspended animation) to analyze my life from the very beginning (as far as I could remember?) and was surprised that I found myself sucking milk from our cow "Vaquita Canela" (cinnamon cow), on the farm where I was born, at the age of about 3 months! What? Yes, I had diphtheria and would have died if it hadn't been for an Indian woman that told my parents to get me to suck milk from the breast of a cow that had given birth within the last 5-10 days, but making sure that I drank it directly from the nipple to avoid oxidation and loss of its property (anti-body?). I saw the face of “Vaquita Canela” with her white mark (almost like a cross) on the head, white spots on her brown body, as well as her 5 day old calf (Canelito) who was lying next to me, while Canelito was laying down so I could drink her milk and save my life. For the next ~7 years until she died we were inseparable, I would only drink milk from her and I buried her with tears in my eyes. To this day every time I drink milk I think of my two moms. The one that gave me life and the one that saved my life!

While in “suspended animation” I felt moisture in my eyes. Was I crying? Conscious of what I was going through in my trance, I challenge myself to “see” if I could go back even further back to when I was born? Is it possible? If I was able to vividly remember and see myself and my mother, my father, Vaquita Canela and her calf “Canelito” at 3 months old, why not at birth? Was I dying? Is that a “near-death” or before death experience? Is that what we all experience before our brain ceases to function? I felt my heart pulsing very slowly, but still pumping so I was still “alive” (I assumed), but I could not feel or move (even if I tried) any part of my body. Suddenly, with my eyes closed a flash of light “blinded” me and I felt pain all over my body, heard noises and felt I was being pulled by my shoulders, so I screamed and screamed from the excruciating pain and suddenly I screamed after taking my first breath of air! I was being born! The first sounds I heard were unrecognizable, it was cold, I was afraid, traumatized and I remember being hung by my feet and given a soft (but hard and painful) patting on my back. I opened my eyes and saw an unknown giant holding me by my feet, so I screamed the loudest I could, afraid for my life. The giant made loud sounds and was swinging me all over and cutting off my life line (umbilical cord?), causing me to scream even louder; he covered my body with something that made me feel like I was wrapped up like a taco. Was he/she going to eat me? Then suddenly he brought me to his chest, patted me gently and passed me to another giant monster that licked my face with her tongue and held me against her body continuously licking my face while the other giant was hurting me in my belly (cutting and tying my umbilical cord very tight). I remember the first face I saw in this world was a gentle giant with a big line above his mouth (mustache) where strange noises came from, he was a giant! The other monster was small and made gentler noises and couldn’t stop licking my face, which felt like she was going to bite me (kisses?). Then I heard more noises different than the first two, it sounded gentler and more musical and calmer to my ears. Later I found out this gentle noise came from my beloved 10 year old sister (Germania) who was assisting my father and mother welcoming me to my new life (over 80 years ago)! Just to make sure I wasn't lying to myself, the next morning I asked my sister (now over 90 years old) if she was there and she almost fainted. "How did you know that?" she asked me. "I dreamt about it" I said.

Suddenly, it all stopped! Was I dead? Several hours later I was awakened by my wife Marcia that was concerned about my extended sleeping and she said, "I thought you were dead." I answered, "If what I dreamed is death, it ain't that bad after all." Was it a near death experience? The presiding is the true recollection of my birth and rebirth and near death or suspended animation or imagination, which I experienced the night of July 13th 2017. Coincidence or destiny? While I was being "Reborn," my 94 year old "Boni" (my Brother) was dying! Any relationship?

An experience of a lifetime! (My gift to you all) Otto Fest (AKA: Jose Jimenez)

The Declaration of Independence

The Want, Will, and Hopes of the People

IN CONGRESS, JULY 4, 1776

The unanimous Declaration of the thirteen united States of America

When in the Course of human events it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another and to assume among the powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the Laws of Nature and of Nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation.

We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness. — That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed, — That whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new Government, laying its foundation on such principles and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness. Prudence, indeed, will dictate that Governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes; and accordingly all experience hath shewn that mankind are more disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed. But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same Object evinces a design to reduce them under absolute Despotism, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such Government, and to provide new Guards for their future security. — Such has been the patient sufferance of these Colonies; and such is now the necessity which constrains them to alter their former Systems of Government. The history of the present King of Great Britain is a history of repeated injuries and usurpations, all having in direct object the establishment of an absolute Tyranny over these States. To prove this, let Facts be submitted to a candid world.

He has refused his Assent to Laws, the most wholesome and necessary for the public good.

He has forbidden his Governors to pass Laws of immediate and pressing importance, unless suspended in their operation till his Assent should be obtained; and when so suspended, he has utterly neglected to attend to them.

He has refused to pass other Laws for the accommodation of large districts of people, unless those people would relinquish the right of Representation in the Legislature, a right inestimable to them and formidable to tyrants only.

He has called together legislative bodies at places unusual, uncomfortable, and distant from the depository of their Public Records, for the sole purpose of fatiguing them into compliance with his measures.

He has dissolved Representative Houses repeatedly, for opposing with manly firmness his invasions on the rights of the people.

He has refused for a long time, after such dissolutions, to cause others to be elected, whereby the Legislative Powers, incapable of Annihilation, have returned to the People at large for their exercise; the State remaining in the mean time exposed to all the dangers of invasion from without, and convulsions within.

He has endeavoured to prevent the population of these States; for that purpose obstructing the Laws for Naturalization of Foreigners; refusing to pass others to encourage their migrations hither, and raising the conditions of new Appropriations of Lands.

He has obstructed the Administration of Justice by refusing his Assent to Laws for establishing Judiciary Powers.

He has made Judges dependent on his Will alone for the tenure of their offices, and the amount and payment of their salaries.

He has erected a multitude of New Offices, and sent hither swarms of Officers to harass our people and eat out their substance.

He has kept among us, in times of peace, Standing Armies without the Consent of our legislatures.

He has affected to render the Military independent of and superior to the Civil Power.

He has combined with others to subject us to a jurisdiction...

Final Note:

There are only two more pages of the entire Declaration of Independence, and one of those pages is almost all the signatories. I would encourage you to look up the balance of this document and continue your reading and your MINDS' education.
